Biography

Alexandra N. Doner is a family law attorney who has counseled hundreds of individuals and families since 2021, helping them navigate complex and personal legal matters with a focus on achieving their individual goals.

Alexandra takes a client-centered approach to family law, listening carefully to understand each client's circumstances and priorities. She values collaboration and works closely with clients to develop thoughtful legal strategies while ensuring they feel heard, informed and supported throughout the process.

Alexandra is also a trained family law mediator. Drawing on her experience handling family law matters, she serves as a neutral to help parties work through difficult issues, explore practical solutions and seek resolution outside the courtroom. Mediation can provide parties with greater involvement in shaping solutions that work for their individual circumstances.

Alexandra's family law practice focuses on the following:

Family Law. She advocates for clients in complex family law disputes, providing representation in matters such as divorce, custody, and property division.

Child Representation. She serves as a dedicated voice for children in legal proceedings, ensuring their best interests are protected in custody and welfare cases.

Guardianships. She assists families in establishing legal guardianships, helping ensure the care and protection of minor children when parents are unable to do so.

Adoption. She guides individuals and families through the adoption process, offering compassionate legal support to help create lasting family bonds.

Premarital Agreements. She drafts and negotiates premarital agreements that safeguard clients' financial interests and clarify expectations before marriage.

Trial & Appellate Advocacy. She handles family law appeals, challenging or defending trial court decisions to uphold her clients' rights.
