Biography

After clerking for the Chief Judge of the Eighth Circuit Court of Appeals, Roger Stone joined the firm in 1981. He soon began litigating commercial and construction cases across Iowa. He has led the firm's efforts to build a strong reputation and practice in the fields of construction and environmental law. Mr. Stone has represented many corporations, contractors, cities, counties, engineers, architects and individuals in hundreds of cases for over forty years. He has handled claims of up to $2.2 billion.

Roger Stone has received recognition by his peers for his legal work:

- First Iowan named to the American College of Construction Lawyers
- Twelve times his peers named him one of the Top Ten Super Lawyers for the State of Iowa
- Cedar Rapids "Lawyer of the Year" by Best Lawyers® in Construction Law, 2012, 2014, 2018, 2021, 2024
- Included in Great Plains Super Lawyers list, 2012-Present
- Ranked In Chambers USA 2014-Present for Litigation: General Commercial

Attorney General Tom Miller selected Mr. Stone and Simmons Perrine as the only lawyer and firm outside of Des Moines to serve as Special State Counsel to represent the State against the tobacco companies. Among other activities, Mr. Stone argued the case in the Supreme Court of Iowa. Iowa and other states successfully settled their claims in late 1998, resulting in the largest recovery in the State's history of over $2.2 billion and substantial health related programs.

He acts as general counsel to general, roofing, mechanical, electrical, excavation, concrete, masonry, paving, painting, drywall and other contractors and architect and engineering firms.

Mr. Stone has served as an arbitrator on the American Arbitration Association's national panel of construction arbitrators for large complex cases, including 40 panels of three arbitrators and 45 single arbitrator cases. The cases have involved claims of up to $100 million. Mr. Stone has served as counsel representing clients in many construction arbitrations that have gone to hearing and also serves as a mediator in construction cases throughout Iowa.

Mr. Stone has also managed superfund matters, chemical spills, permitting issues, delay and disruption claims, contaminated land sales, remediation plans, criminal defense of corporate officers and water and wastewater issues.

Mr. Stone spent 25 years serving as Managing Partner and Chair of the Board of Directors of the firm.

Representative Experience

Mr. Stone has served as lead counsel on a wide range of construction cases, including nearly any type of building or project in Iowa.

Environmental

- We have experience in cases involving clean-up and liability for environmental contamination, landfill development, other solid waste disposal and transfer, mold liability, other industrial hygiene, odor and other nuisance control.

Public Projects

- We represent contractors and owners on public projects that include athletic stadiums, event arenas, schools, swimming pools, streets and highways, storm sewer systems, bridges, golf courses, municipal water plants, and waste treatment plants. These projects often include specific construction issues arising out of our practice in commercial and industrial, water and drainage, utilities and energy and public liens.

Utilities and Energy

- We represent clients providing electrical and other utility services, wind and solar farm development, ethanol plants, coal mines, developing alternative energies.

Water and Waste Water

- We represent clients in construction that affects and is affected by water. Specific projects include cofferdams, storm water embankments and retention, dams, dikes, and other alterations of drainage.

Industrial

- We represent clients in the construction of commercial and industrial buildings. Specific types of buildings include: stadiums, arenas, schools, dormitories, hospitals, hotels, churches, museums, high rise buildings, office buildings, domes, steel plants. In addition to general commercial and industrial experience, we have attorneys with specialized experience in specific construction issues.

Specific Construction Issues

Our attorneys have experience involving failure analysis and liability as well as contract liability in a variety of specific issues:

- Structural: geotechnical surveys, subterranean support, foundational systems, backfill and compacting of buried structures, load-bearing system designs, and alteration of drainage
- Climate control: HVAC, geothermal systems, piping, individual solar and wind systems
- Roofing and weatherproofing: traditional shingle roofs, elastomeric roof systems, other alternative roof systems, window design and incorporation, cladding and other siding
- Materials and installation: poured-in-place concrete, and pre-cast concrete systems, mortar and brick systems, glazing, ceramics, carpeting, tile and other surface coverings
- Business infrastructure: telephone systems computer controls, acoustical material, refrigeration
- Project Progress: Project delays, extra work claims, liquidated damages, and change orders

Residential

- Our experience on specific issues, commercial and industrial, water and drainage, and environmental projects allows us to most effectively represent clients when comparable issues arise on residential projects.
